FILL IN TOGETHER

Four schools side by side on the things that actually decide it — cost, distance, size, programme, feel. Puts the decision on one page instead of in six browser tabs.

When: Once the acceptances are in, before anybody commits

Write the four schools across the top, then work down the rows.

The two questions that decide it

Which school can we pay for over four years, not just the first one?

Where would our student be happiest and most likely to finish?

WORTH KNOWING

- ◆ Compare net price, never sticker price. Sticker price is nobody's real number.
- ◆ Multiply the first-year cost by four, then ask the question again.
- ◆ If two schools are close on money, the one where the student will thrive wins.
