

Senior Year Pressure Check

FILL IN TOGETHER

A short monthly honesty check for both of you. Senior year quietly becomes the most stressful year a family has had, and nobody says so until March.

When: Once a month through senior year

This month, rate it separately

Student fills one column, parent the other. Compare afterwards.

	Student	Parent
How stressed have I been about college?
How much have we argued about it?
How well am I sleeping?
Do I feel behind?
Am I enjoying any of senior year?
Do I feel like the other person is listening?

Where our numbers differ most

One thing each of us will do differently

Student

Parent

Something good that happened this month

Do not skip this one.

WORTH KNOWING

- ◆ A parent who is anxious about money and a student who is anxious about rejection sound identical from the outside. They need different responses.
- ◆ Senior year is also the last year at home. Protect a little of it for that.
- ◆ If either of you is consistently at the bad end, talk to someone. It is not a phase you have to ride out.

